EDUCATION

The Nebraska Constitution requires the Legislature "to provide for the free instruction in the common schools of this state of all persons between the ages of five and twenty-one years." Attendance is compulsory for children ages 7 through 16 years of age.

Besides grade and high school education provided by the state's school districts, a network of two-year community colleges offer vocational technical education, two-year academic programs and community service programs. Nebraska has state colleges in Chadron, Peru and Wayne. The University of Nebraska has campuses in Lincoln, Omaha, Kearney and Curtis.

Nebraska also has private schools for all educational levels and postsecondary trade schools. Exempt schooling is an option for parents with children at elementary and secondary levels.

The University of Nebraska, a state-supported institution, was chartered at Lincoln in 1869 as a land-grant college. The university is governed by a Board of Regents composed of eight voting members elected on a nonpartisan basis and four nonvoting student members, each representing a campus.<sup>1</sup>

Each of the university's four campuses is led by a chancellor responsible to the president. The university is composed of the University of Nebraska-Lincoln, the University of Nebraska at Omaha, the University of Nebraska Medical Center and the University of Nebraska at Kearney. UNL includes the Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources. The Nebraska College of Technical Agriculture in Curtis operates under the authority of the Board of Regents and is administered by the Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources.

The University of Nebraska-Lincoln (UNL) is Nebraska's state university and landgrant university. When the university was chartered in 1869, the Legislature subscribed to the federal government's Morrill or Land-Grant College Act, which committed the university to include instruction in agriculture, mechanic arts and military tactics, besides a liberal arts and sciences academic program.

By the mid-1880s, the university began offering graduate courses, the first graduate program west of the Mississippi River. The university was a member of the Association of American Universities from 1909-2011. UNL is accredited by the Higher Learning Commission/North Central Association of Colleges and Schools. The Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching ranks UNL as RU/VH: a doctoral/research university with very high research activity, reflecting UNL's level of federal funding for research and high-quality graduate education leading to the doctoral degree.

The university's missions are teaching, research and public service. Approximately 24,600 students matriculate through its nine colleges: Agricultural Sciences and Natural Resources, Architecture, Arts and Sciences, Business Administration, Education and Human Sciences, Engineering, Hixson-Lied Fine and Performing Arts, Journalism and Mass Communications and Law.

A new curriculum, Achievement-Centered Education, launched in 2009, ensures graduates are competent in writing, communications and mathematics; have knowledge of diverse peoples and cultures and of the natural and physical world; understand ethics and social responsibilities; and are able to integrate these abilities to adapt to a changing world. Among UNL's signature undergraduate programs are the Jeffrey S. Raikes School of Computer Science and Management, the UNL Honors Program and the Undergraduate Creative Activities and Research Experiences program.

UNL students participate in comprehensive programs of research as well as scholarly and creative activities. UNL offers 138 undergraduate majors, 69 master's degree programs under 15 separate degree titles and 36 doctoral programs leading to the degrees of doctor of philosophy, doctor of education and doctor of musical arts. One associate degree program, six professional degree programs and four educational specialist programs also are available.

UNL's colleges and other university facilities are on two campuses in Lincoln and at other locations throughout the state. UNL's City Campus is just north of Lincoln's downtown business district, and East Campus is about two miles northeast of City Campus. UNL's Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources, from its headquarters on East Campus, extends the university's services to all Nebraskans through its statewide research and extension programs in agriculture and home economics. The Nebraska College of Technical Agriculture in Curtis is a division of IANR.<sup>2</sup>

In 2010, UNL acquired 249 acres that formerly hosted the Nebraska State Fair to create the Nebraska Innovation Campus. The land is contiguous to the university's city campus. The Nebraska Innovation Campus is a public/private research and technology development center meant to attract business and industry interested in leveraging university research.

Agricultural research and extension centers are located across the state and Nebraska counties receive county or area extension services. District and state specialists provide leadership for programs in agriculture, home economics and family living, 4-H youth and community development.

Nearly 100,000 people each year are served through extended education programs that deliver courses across Nebraska and worldwide. The university also operates one of the nation's major accredited high school and college correspondence programs.

Other university facilities include the 9,500-acre Agricultural Research and Development Center near Mead; the Gudmundsen Sandhills Research Center, a 12,800-acre beef cattle, range and forage studies center on a ranch northeast of Whitman; the Nine-Mile Prairie, a virgin prairie northwest of Lincoln; and the Cedar Point Biological Station near Ogallala, used for biological science research and instruction.

UNL is a comprehensive research university that provides students the opportunity to work with faculty who are leaders in their disciplines. Leading research programs include agriculture, climate and drought, digital humanities, energy, food safety, high-intensity lasers, plant science and genetics, materials science, nanotechnology, natural resources, redox biology, transportation, virology and water. These diverse research strengths help UNL expand knowledge to address state and national problems. In 2010, a $50 million pledge from the Robert B. Daugherty Foundation established the Robert B. Daugherty Water for Food Institute, where scientists and others will work to find solutions to the problem of limited water resources and the challenge of a growing world population. A 2011 gift from Omaha philanthropist Susie Buffett established the Buffett Early Childhood Institute to transform child development and education.

UNL also serves the state through cultural, educational and technical outreach programs. City Campus is home to the Sheldon Museum of Art, the Lied Center for Performing Arts and the University of Nebraska State Museum. The Sheldon Museum of Art has one of the nation's best collections of 20th century American art and also features a sculpture garden with works by more than 30 artists including Claes Oldenburg, Mark di Suvero, Richard Serra and David Smith. The Lied Center, opened in 1989, showcases major regional, national and international events.

The University of Nebraska State Museum has an outstanding collection of fossil mammals and is world-renowned for its Elephant Hall, home of Archie, an ancient mammoth whose skeleton is thought to be the largest on display in the world. The museum houses galleries of Nebraska wildlife, zoology, geology and anthropology and the Mueller Planetarium. The museum also operates Ashfall Fossil Beds State Historical Park near Royal, Neb., and Trailside Museum of Natural History at Fort Robinson State Park.

In spring 2008, UNL opened the International Quilt Study Center and Museum. It houses the largest public collection of historic quilts from around the world, attracting researchers and quilt lovers to its galleries, research laboratories and digital galleries.

The Christlieb Collection of Western Art is part of UNL's Center for Great Plains Studies. Students and faculty in the School of Music, the Johnny Carson School of Theatre and Film and the Department of Art and Art History present or create performing and fine arts that enhance cultural life. UNL also is home base for The Nebraska Repertory Theatre, Nebraska's only professional live theatre. Film buffs and historians make use of the Mary Riepma Ross Media Arts Center. The University of Nebraska Press also is at UNL.

The university provides enrichment programs for elementary and secondary students through activities such as annual Math Days, annual Foreign Language Fair and the College of Engineering's annual E-Week. The university also sponsors lectures and other public programs including the series of E.J. Faulkner and Lewis E. Harris lectures, the new Heuermann lectures as well as the E.N. Thompson Forum on World Issues lecture series, all of which bring distinguished speakers from around the world to Lincoln.

UNL works to commercialize the products of its research to enhance Nebraska's economy. Major centers have been established at UNL to help Nebraska businesses and industries. The Food Processing Center in the Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources operates through cooperation among the state, university and private sector. This center provides technical services to new and established industries and helps develop new products and processes. The Industrial Agricultural Products Center assists companies in developing and commercializing bio-based products and processing techniques, primarily focused on biopolymers, biochemical, biofuels and biopower. The Nebraska Center for Entrepreneurship in the College of Business Administration and the Engler Agribusiness Entrepreneurship Center in the College of Agricultural Sciences and Natural Resources offer students the chance to develop their entrepreneurial skills. The Buros Institute of Mental Measurements in the College of Education and Human Sciences publishes scholarly reviews of tests and test-related products and publishes the Mental Measurements Yearbook and Data Base.

The George W. Beadle Center for Genetics and Biomaterials Research houses laboratories for research and development in biotechnology, biochemistry, biological materials and related fields.

UNL's Barkley Memorial Center is recognized nationally for its teaching and research programs and for the center's work in communication augmentation and rehabilitation for people with speech and hearing disorders. NET, formerly Nebraska Educational Telecommunications, operates NET Television and NET Radio from its headquarters at UNL.

Recent international activities include partnerships with several Chinese universities and the establishment of a Confucius Institute to promote the study of Chinese language and culture. UNL also is the lead scientific institution in the international Antarctic drilling project called ANDRILL. UNL scientists are studying ways to stop the transmission of HIV between mothers and infants in Africa and have, for more than 30 years, worked to improve the food supply in Africa, Central America and Eurasia through the International Sorghum and Millet Collaborative Research Support Program.

UNL faculty are leading a collaboration among Big Ten and Ivy League institutions to study the effects of head injuries in sports.

Love Library on UNL's City Campus is the state's major research library and the flagship of UNL's University Libraries, which hold more than 3 million volumes available statewide through interlibrary loan. The libraries are extensively involved in digital research and other new technologies.

Among its more than 180,000 graduates, the university has alumni in all 50 states and more than 40 foreign countries.

UNL also is home to more than two dozen men's and women's athletic programs. Nicknamed "Cornhuskers," or "the Huskers," these teams have a tradition of national prominence in athletics. In 2011, UNL joined the Big Ten athletics conference and its academic affiliate, the Committee on Institutional Cooperation. In addition to five national championships in football, Husker teams have won eight national titles in men's gymnastics, three women's indoor track and field titles, and three women's volleyball titles. Husker athletes are also known for their academic achievements. Since 1952, UNL has had more academic all-Americans than any other school in the nation in either university or college divisions.

The Nebraska College of Technical Agriculture in Curtis is governed by the Board of Regents and is part of the NU system. The two-year college grants associate of applied science degrees and certificates. NCTA also offers associate of science transfer degrees as well as concurrent enrollment and continuing education opportunities for nontraditional students. NCTA is accredited by the Higher Learning Commission of the North Central Association of Colleges and Schools and the American Veterinary Medical Association.

The college enrolls over 350 students and offers majors in agribusiness management systems, agriculture production systems, horticulture systems and veterinary technology systems. Students receiving degrees and certificates are prepared for careers in agriculture and related fields or for continued study at four-year institutions, such as the UNL College of Agricultural Sciences and Natural Resources.

Chancellor: Douglas A. Kristensen

The University of Nebraska at Kearney, established in 1903, became part of the university system on July 1, 1991, by action of the 1989 Legislature. The university was formerly known as Kearney State College.

The university provides comprehensive educational, research and service programs. More than 170 academic programs are offered to approximately 7,100 students. UNK's five colleges are Business and Technology, Education, Fine Arts and Humanities, Natural and Social Sciences and Graduate Studies. Continuing studies programs are offered in communities throughout the region.

The university grants the following degrees: bachelor of arts, bachelor of science, bachelor of music, bachelor of arts in education, bachelor of science in education, bachelor of fine arts, bachelor of general studies, master of arts, master of science, master of arts in education, master of science in education, master of business administration and the specialist degree. The university is accredited by the North Central Association of Colleges and Schools and the National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education.

University of Nebraska Medical Center

Campus: 985230 Nebraska Medical Center, Omaha, NE 68198-5230, phone (402) 559-4000, website — www.unmc.edu

Chancellor: Harold M. Maurer, M.D.

The University of Nebraska Medical Center (UNMC) is the state's only academic health science center. UNMC's award-winning educational programs have trained more health professionals practicing in Nebraska than any other institution. Of the nearly 3,600 students at UNMC, more than 80 percent are Nebraska residents.

Accredited by the North Central Association of Colleges and Schools, UNMC is recognized nationally and internationally as a leader in patient care, research, education and community outreach. Together with its hospital partner, The Nebraska Medical Center, UNMC is one of the country's leading centers in cancer, transplant biology, bioterrorism preparedness, neurodegenerative diseases, cardiovascular diseases, genetics, biomedical technology and other areas.

UNMC's primary care program is ranked sixth in the nation by U.S. News & World Report and the rural health medicine program is ranked 12th. The university's physician assistant, physical therapy, pharmacy and nursing master's programs also rank among the top in the country.

UMCS's research funding from external sources now exceeds $80 million annually and has created thousands of highly skilled jobs in the state. UNMC's physician practice group, UNMC Physicians, includes 550 physicians in 50 specialties and subspecialties who practice primarily at The Nebraska Medical Center.<sup>3</sup>

UNMC is home to the colleges of Dentistry, Medicine, Nursing, Pharmacy, Public Health and the School of Allied Health Professions. UNMC also is home to the Eppley Cancer Center and the Munroe-Meyer Institute for Genetics and Rehabilitation. Many students at UNMC study as part of the University of Nebraska's Graduate College.

The College of Medicine offers the doctor of medicine degree and graduate medical education in 18 specialties and 15 subspecialties. The College of Dentistry, a regional source for the doctor of dental surgery degree, offers four specialties and a hospital-based general practice residency program. It also offers the state's only bachelor's degree in dental hygiene program through the Lincoln campus and at the west division in Gering.

The College of Nursing has trained more of the baccalaureate nurses in the state than any other institution and prepares nurse practitioners and master's degree nurses. It also offers the only doctoral nursing program in Nebraska. The College of Nursing offers coursework at its five divisions in Omaha, Lincoln, Kearney, Scottsbluff and Norfolk. Courses also are offered via distance technology. The college operates nurse-managed health centers, school nursing and employee health programs.

The College of Pharmacy was one of the first colleges in the nation to offer the doctorate of pharmacy degree. It's doctor of pharmacy professional program is ranked among the top colleges of pharmacy in the United States and its graduate program in pharmaceutical sciences offers educational opportunities that lead to master's and doctorate degrees.

The College of Public Health, UNMC's newest college, delivers high quality education, research and public service emphasizing the following areas: biosecurity/biopreparedness; biostatistics; environmental, agricultural and occupational health sciences; epidemiology; ethics and humanities in health; health disparities; health policy analysis; health services administration; health services research; health promotion/disease prevention; rural health; and toxicology.

The School of Allied Health Professions offers educational degrees in 11 areas: clinical laboratory science, clinical perfusion, cytotechnology, diagnostic medical sonography, medical nutrition education, nuclear medicine technology, physical therapy, physician assistant, radiography, radiation therapy and computed tomography/magnetic resonance imaging.

UNMC's Munroe-Meyer Institute (MMI) provides services and support for persons with genetic disorders and developmental disabilities. As an academic unit of UNMC, the institute provides advanced disciplinary and interdisciplinary educational programs to students in 17 disciplines and programs. MMI is a federally designated University Center of Excellence for Developmental Disabilities Education, Research and Service.

Basic and clinical cancer research and educational programs, including cancer prevention and outreach, are coordinated through the UNMC Eppley Cancer Center. A National Cancer Institute Clinical Cancer Center, Eppley is one of the founding members of the National Comprehensive Cancer Center Network, an alliance of 21 leading cancer centers in the United States. Members of the network work together to develop treatment guidelines for most cancers and are dedicated to research that improves the quality, effectiveness and efficiency of cancer care.

UNeMed Corporation is an independent technology management company that provides value-added commercialization services to UNMC. UNeMed commercializes technology by licensing from UNMC and sublicensing to private industry for further development. The corporation was established in 1991 as a for profit entity that was wholly owned by UNMC. In 2002, ownership of UNeMed was transferred to the Nebraska Technology Development Corp., with UNMC maintaining shareholder privileges by proxy.

Much progress has been made in the past two decades to bring UNMC's health education, research and patient care facilities and programs into the 21st century. Nearly all of the construction on campus during that time has been paid for through philanthropy.

In 2009, a $77 million research tower - Durham Research Center II - opened alongside the Durham Research Center, which opened in 2003. The buildings are dedicated to the research of cancer, cardiovascular disease, neurosciences, eye disease, gastrointestinal and liver diseases, regenerative medicine, transplantation and developmental biology, genetics and molecular genetics, neurobiology and other diseases.

In 2008, UNMC opened the $52.7 million Michael F. Sorrell Center for Health Science Education. The center - home to the College of Medicine - features clinical skills laboratories that resemble hospital and exam rooms, as well as large amphitheaters, small-group interaction rooms, conference space for continuing education and student interaction space that will provide enhanced interdisciplinary educational opportunities.

The Weigel Williamson Center for Visual Rehabilitation became the nation's only low vision center situated on a university campus when it opened in 2008. The center, the only one like it in the region, provides comprehensive visual rehabilitation for adults and children with low vision.

The Hixson-Lied Center for Clinical Excellence, which opened in 2005, is a four-story clinical facility that connects the former University Hospital and Clarkson Hospital. Those hospitals merged in 1997 to form UNMC's hospital partner, The Nebraska Medical Center.

The Lied Transplant Center, which opened in 1999, is one of the largest and most successful transplant centers in the world. With patients from around the world, the center's state of the art transplant program provides comprehensive treatment for diseases of the kidney, pancreas, liver, small intestine, heart and lungs.

In recent years, the Omaha campus has opened the Home Instead Center for Successful Aging, the Harold M. and Beverly Maurer Center for Public Health, the Center for Nursing Science and dedicated the student plaza, which includes an architectural feature by world-renowned architect and artist James Carpenter. State funding is provided for the renovation of Poynter, Bennett and Wittson Halls, three of the oldest buildings on UNMC's campus. Future openings and projected completion dates include the Stanley M. Truhlsen Eye Institute in 2013, a $370 million cancer campus in 2016 and, in Kearney, a new nursing and allied health education facility in 2015.

UNMC's history dates back to 1881, when Nebraska's first medical college opened. Reorganized and renamed the Omaha Medical College the following year, the school became affiliated with the University of Nebraska in 1902. Dental instruction was added in 1903, and by 1919 the school became the College of Dentistry. The School of Pharmacy became part of the professional curriculum in Lincoln in 1908, and the School of Nursing was established in 1917 and became a college in 1972. The training of allied health professionals began in the early 1930s with classes in medical technology and radiologic technology. By the end of World War II, the university had established programs in all healthcare disciplines.

Since the restructuring of the University of Nebraska in 1968, the Board of Regents has consolidated the university's major healthcare programs under UNMC. The College of Pharmacy and the College of Dentistry joined UNMC in 1972 and 1979, respectively.

The University of Nebraska at Omaha (UNO) is a comprehensive, state metropolitan university. Founded in 1908 as the Municipal University of Omaha, UNO merged into the University of Nebraska system in 1968. UNO serves over 14,000 undergraduate and graduate students, including over 400 international students.

UNO's mission targets three areas: student focus, academic excellence and community engagement. UNO contributes valuable service and support programs and research data at the local, state and national levels through units such as the Nebraska Business Development Center, the Center for Public Affairs Research and the Aviation Institute.

UNO's comprehensive offerings include more than 125 undergraduate, 40 master's or specialist, 20 certificate and five doctoral programs. Several of the programs are nationally ranked. Graduate and undergraduate programs are offered within six colleges on the UNO campus: Arts and Sciences; Business Administration; Communication, Fine Arts and Media; Education; Information Science and Technology; and Public Affairs and Community Service. The University of Nebraska-Lincoln (UNL) also offers courses at the UNO campus through the UNL colleges of Agricultural and Natural Sciences, Architecture, Education and Human Sciences and Engineering.

UNO has two campus locations: 60th and Dodge streets and 67th and Pacific streets. The Peter Kiewit Institute at the Pacific street location houses the UNO College of Information Science as well as the UNL college of Engineering. Apartment style residential housing is available at University Village and Maverick Village at the Dodge street location and at Scott Residence Hall and Scott Village at the Pacific street location.

UNO offers many opportunities for students to get involved in campus life. The university has more than 100 student organizations, including fraternities and sororities. UNO offers 15 intercollegiate sports for men and women. The university's teams, named the Mavericks, compete in Division II of the NCAA in the Mid-American Intercollegiate Athletic Association. UNO's Division I ice hockey team competes in the Central Collegiate Hockey Association. The Qwest Center in Omaha is the team's home ice.

The North Central Association of Colleges and Schools and various specialized accreditation boards accredit the University.

Nebraska State College System

Nebraska's state colleges were established in 1867 when Nebraska achieved state-hood. Peru State College became Nebraska's first public postsecondary institution. The Legislature provided for three additional teacher education schools (Normal Schools) at Kearney in 1903, Wayne in 1910 and Chadron in 1911. In 1963, the Legislature designated these schools as Chadron State College, Kearney State College, Peru State College and Wayne State College. Kearney State College became part of the University of Nebraska system in 1991.

The three state colleges are governed by a constitutional board, known as the Board of Trustees of the Nebraska State Colleges.<sup>4</sup>

Chadron State College

Campus: 1000 Main St., Chadron, NE 69337-2690, phone (308) 432-6000, fax (308) 432-6464, website — www.csc.edu

Interim President: Dr. Randy Rhine

The 1909 Legislature provided for a new higher education institution in northwest Nebraska. The Board of Education of State Normal Schools selected Chadron as the location of its fourth institution in January 1910. The school opened in June 1911.

Chadron State has evolved into a comprehensive college with a wide range of programs. It is the only four-year and graduate degree-granting college in western Nebraska and is fully accredited by the Higher Learning Commission of the North Central Association of Colleges and Schools and subject-oriented accrediting agencies.

The college offers undergraduate programs in 72 majors or endorsements and has numerous professional studies options. Many preprofessional programs in the health sciences are available, including the Rural Health Opportunities Program, conducted jointly with the University of Nebraska Medical Center, and the High Plains Health Opportunities Program, offered with Creighton University in Omaha.

Chadron State confers the following advanced degrees: master of arts in education, master of business administration, master of education and master of science in organizational management.

Approximately 2,800 students are enrolled at Chadron State. On-campus housing is available in five residence halls or a family apartment complex. The 281-acre campus includes 24 buildings, five of which are listed in the National Register of Historic Places.

Chadron State has long been a pioneer of distance education. Many courses and programs are available over the Internet. Twelve degree options are available online. A large number of courses and workshops are offered during the summer.

In 2002, the college renovated its former library into the Mari Sandoz High Plains Heritage Center, which pays tribute to the author and includes exhibits on the development of the region. Laboratory and research facilities are available in seven classroom buildings and the Reta E. King Library.

The conferencing office facilitates many activities on campus, including group gatherings, Elderhostels, youth camps and contests, professional association meetings, legislative hearings, and state and national workshops.

The college serves as a regional center for the arts, humanities and economic development. The Galaxy Series, which sponsors exhibits, concerts and presentations by nationally and internationally known performers, is among the cultural opportunities available.

Chadron State's intercollegiate athletic teams participate in the NCAA Division II and belong to the Rocky Mountain Athletic Conference. The college also has a rodeo

President: Dr. Daniel Hanson

Peru State College was established as Peru Normal School in 1860 under a charter granted by the territorial Legislature. The school opened in 1866 as Mt. Vernon Seminary. In 1867, the Legislature accepted the school as a gift from the Board of Trustees and it was renamed the Nebraska State Normal School. The school was the first college or university in Nebraska and the third teacher training institution west of the Missouri River.

Until 1905, Peru Normal School was the only state college. In 1921, the Legislature made normal schools four-year colleges and authorized the granting of bachelor of arts, bachelor of science and bachelor of fine arts degrees in education. The school was known as the Nebraska State Teachers College at Peru. In 1949, the Legislature authorized liberal arts degrees. In 1963, the Legislature changed the college's name to Peru State College.

Teacher education is one of the largest programs at Peru State College, including a graduate-level teacher education program. The college also offers preprofessional programs and participates in the Rural Health Opportunities Program conducted jointly with the University of Nebraska Medical Center. The administration of PSC includes the School of Arts and Sciences, the School of Professional Studies and the School of Education. All programs are accredited by the HLC of the North Central Association of Colleges and Schools.

Peru State College offers coursework throughout its 19-county service area in southeastern Nebraska. Distance learning technology and online coursework make up a growing portion of the approximately 2,400 students served by the college.

Peru State College is governed by the Board of Trustees of the Nebraska State Colleges.

Wayne State College

Campus: 1111 Main St., Wayne, NE 68787, phone (402) 375-7000, fax (402) 375-7204, email address — admit1@wsc.edu, website — www.wsc.edu

President: Curt Frye

Wayne State College is a four-year school that offers a variety of degrees, including bachelor of arts, bachelor of science, master of business administration, master of science in education and education specialist in school administration. The college also offers preprofessional programs and participates in the Rural Health Opportunities Program, conducted jointly with the University of Nebraska Medical Center.

Students select from areas of study in four schools: the School of Arts and Humanities, the School of Business and Technology, the School of Education and Counseling and the School of Natural and Social Sciences. The college's continuing education program offers undergraduate and graduate courses at various locations in northeast Nebraska.

The College Center in South Sioux City is a unique higher education partnership between Wayne State College and Northeast Community College. The partnership allows students to take all of the necessary classes at College Center to earn certificates, diplomas and associate, bachelor's and master's degrees in a variety of areas including elementary education, business administration and criminal justice. In addition to classrooms, laboratories and staff and faculty offices, the $12 million facility features study areas, meeting and conference rooms, a community meeting room, bookstore and a student center with computers, printers, copiers and other resources. The 39,600 square-foot building opened for classes in March 2011.

Wayne State College has about 3,600 students (3,000 full-time equivalent). The college's 128-acre campus encompasses the Northeast Nebraska Arboretum and Nature Center and includes 22 major buildings. All programs are accredited by the North Central Association of Colleges and Schools and the National Council for the Accreditation of Teacher Education.

Wayne State was founded by educator James M. Pile in 1891 as a private college known as the Nebraska Normal College. The Legislature authorized purchase of the college in 1909, and it opened as a state normal school in September 1910, offering two-year programs in teacher education.

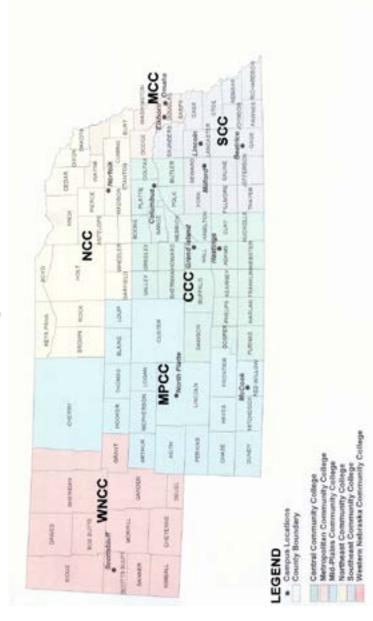

The 1921 Legislature added "Teachers College" to the normal school name and authorized the granting of bachelor of arts in education degrees. The 1949 Legislature dropped normal school from the name to create the Nebraska State Teachers College at Wayne. At the same time, it granted authority to offer bachelor of arts degrees in liberal arts. The graduate program leading to a master's degree was authorized in 1955, and in 1963, the Legislature changed the college's name to Wayne State College. The education specialist in school administration and master of business administration degrees were approved by the State College Board of Trustees in 1981 and 1991, respectively.

Community College System

A statewide system of locally governed community colleges was created in 1971 when the Legislature combined all public two-year schools in Nebraska. Five junior colleges (Fairbury, McCook, Nebraska Western at Scottsbluff, Platte at Columbus and Northeast Nebraska Technical College at Norfolk), five area vocational technical schools (Omaha, Lincoln, Central Nebraska at Hastings, Mid-Plains at North Platte and Northeast at Norfolk), and two state schools (Nebraska Technical at Milford and Western Nebraska at Sidney) formed the Nebraska Technical Community College Areas.

The six community college areas have 13 campuses and several off-campus sites. The Central Community College Area has campuses at Columbus, Grand Island and Hastings and centers at Holdrege, Kearney and Lexington. The Metropolitan Community College Area has campuses at Elkhorn Valley, Fort Omaha and South Omaha and centers at Fremont, Offutt Air Force Base and La Vista. The Mid-Plains Community College Area has McCook Community College and two campuses in North Platte and centers at Broken Bow, Imperial, Ogallala and Valentine. The Northeast Community College Area has one campus in Norfolk and centers at O'Neill and West Point. The Southeast Community College Area has campuses at Beatrice, Lincoln and Milford. The Western Nebraska Community College Area has one campus at Scottsbluff and centers at Sidney and Alliance.

Control over financing of the state's community colleges is vested in area boards of governors. The colleges are financed by local property taxes, which are levied in the area by each board; state general fund appropriations; and tuition and fees set by each area board. The state general fund appropriations are distributed to the six areas based primarily on two formulas: an enrollment-driven formula and an equalization formula.

The role and mission priorities of Nebraska's community colleges are:

- applied technology and occupational education, and when necessary, foundations education
- transfer education, including general academic transfer programs, or applied technology and occupational programs that may be applicable to the first two years of a bachelor's degree program, and when necessary, foundations education
- public service, particularly adult continuing education for occupations and professions, economic and community development focused on customized occupational assessment and job training programs for business and communities, and vocational and personal development courses
  - applied research

All campuses in Nebraska's community college system are accredited by the Higher Learning Commission.

Central Community College Area

Area Office: 3134 W. Highway 34, P.O. Box 4903, Grand Island, NE 68802-4903, phone (308) 398-4222, website — www.cccneb.edu

College President: Dr. Greg P. Smith

Central Community College was formed in 1973, when the Legislature merged the Hastings Campus (including a practical nursing program at Kearney) with the Columbus Campus. Central administration offices were established in Grand Island in 1974, and the Grand Island Campus opened two years later.

The college offers 34 career and technical education programs with a focus on degree, diploma and certificate programs requiring two years or less to complete. The college also offers an academic transfer program for students who want to complete the first two years of a bachelors degree before transferring to a four-year college or university. Transfer graduates can earn either an associate of arts or associate of science degree.

In addition to the three campuses, the college operates centers in Holdrege, Kearney and Lexington, offers classes in more than 90 communities throughout its 25-county service area, provides training and development for businesses, industries and other organizations and offers degrees, diplomas, certificates and more than 250 courses online. Students can complete all courses needed to earn an associate of arts or associate of science degree through online learning.

Credit classes are offered off-campus through learning centers. These classes include individualized study, satellite broadcast and computer classes. Adult Education serves the community by offering free classes in literacy, GED and English as a second language to anyone age 16 or older who is not in school.

BROADCASTING STATIONS

Nebraska has 158 radio stations, including 27 noncommercial stations. In June 1988, the Nebraska Educational Telecommunications Commission assumed possession of studio and transmitter equipment for public radio station KUCV-FM in Lincoln, the originating station for a nine-station Nebraska Public Radio Network.<sup>6</sup>

Nebraska has 25 television stations.<sup>7</sup> Of these, nine are noncommercial statewide public television stations.
